Every age group faces unique problems on sexual wellness

Research and Insights

Primary Research

Teens 15-19 years

- Awareness - Very low on both sex education and condom use
- Purchase - Ashamed to buy condoms, retailers also show hesitance
- No support system, faulty information sources - No talk on sex education from parents and in schools is only namesake; resort to either friend who are themselves unaware or to pornographic websites that give out very wrong messages on sex
- Content consumption -

College-goers 20-24 years

- Awareness - Moderate on both sex and condom use
- Experimenters - Tries out varieties in condoms, focus on experience from condom
- Issues - Exploration in a negative connotation, pretentious, non-acceptance to unawareness, indulgence in unsafe sex
- Content consumption -

First Jobbers 25-28 years

- Awareness - High on both sex and condom use
- Purchase power - high; prefers quality and branded products
- Loyalists - Have developed a liking for specific brands and varieties of condoms
- Issues - Want a non-judgemental and discrete buying place (e.g. D2C)
- Content consumption -

Early Marriage 29-34 years

- Awareness - High on both sex and condom use
- Purchase power - high; prefers quality and branded products
- Focus on pleasure - driven condoms; mainly used to avoid unexpected pregnancies
- Issues - Perceived as trust issue if condom use is encouraged within marriage
- Content consumption -

Settled 35-49 years

- Awareness - High on sex; low on condom use
- Purchase power - high; prefers quality and branded products
- No privacy, tired from work - reasons for highly skewed unplanned sex
- Issues - Why use condoms after sterilization - commonly asked; women very hesitant to buy from stores
- Content consumption -

Secondary Research

Pornography was mentioned the most "helpful" source of information for 18 to 24 year-olds

78% men between 20-24 years of age did not use contraceptive with their last partner

82% men were aware that consistent use of condoms can reduce the chance of getting HIV/AIDS, but only 1 in 10 use condom

1 in 5 women buy condoms, 65% have never bought condoms

Delayed ejaculation is a major benefit associated with condom use besides the usual ones

2.5 million+ LGBTQ+ community in India has 7% HIV positivity rate

ECONOMIC TIMES.COM

CAGR for condom market is only 2%, and India has 3rd highest cases of HIV

Ban on condom TVC from 6 am to 10 pm - counterproductive and enhances the label on sex education as taboo

Key Insights

Teens (15-19 years)

Low on awareness and curious about the physical and hormonal changes during adolescence, lack proper guidance

College-goers (20-24 years)

Unreal sex expectations are fed to college-goers through PORNOGRAPHY with highlights being, unprotected sex labelled as COOL

First Jobbers (25-28 years)

Content consumption pattern shifts from social media and freemium models to OTT Platforms

Early Marriage (29-34 years)

Higher frequency of sex and higher emphasis on pleasure with non-condom usage labelled as TRUST, an important factor in marriage

Settled (35-49 years)

Unplanned sex because of no privacy and exhausting work schedule, sterilization used to prevent pregnancy

Women

Purchase frequency still low; need for activating action through message of shared responsibility

LGBTQ+

None of the brands have LGBTQ+ community as integral part of their advertisements, limited talks on sexual wellness

GLOBAL CHALLENGE 2022

Entrepreneurs with Purpose

Catering the needs and discovering potential of an untapped group

Segmentation and Gap Analysis

The Inclusion Angle

Common in all segments and needs focus

Women

- Believes it is her equal responsibility to have safe sex
- Has a mental barrier of being judged during purchase

LGBTQ+

- Confused/unclear about condom use as all ads portray heterosexuals
- Started feeling positive from a few brand's social media campaigns on the LGBTQ+ community
- Needs reliable sexual wellness source

Primary Focus

Substitute Users

Age 35+ and why condoms are needed even after sterilization

Experimenters

Current condom users; focus on marketing innovative offerings

Secondary Focus

Hesitant

Focus only on making condoms available through D2C channel or other online channel

Future Customers

Unaware

Focus on brand connection through sexual wellness education rather than selling

Targeting

Unaware

- NO prior sexual knowledge
- Not aware of which condom to use, how to use
- Gets information from unreliable sources

Goals:

- Safe sex
- Stress-free sexual experience

Challenges:

- Nervousness from unreal expectation
- No support system to discuss issues

Hesitant

- Understands sexual health and wellness
- May or may not understand the benefits of condoms
- Purchase phobia, a mental barrier to being judged

Goals:

- Stress-free purchase experience
- Pleasure is an important factor

Challenges:

- Asking at the reception, or finding in supermarkets (placed in corners)
- Judged by retailer or other customers

Experimenters

- Fairly educated on sexual health and condom benefits
- Want to try new experiences through new condom varieties

Goals:

- Safe sex but no compromise in pleasure

Challenges:

- Convincing partner to use condom consistently
- Trust issues in recently married couples if condom use insisted

Substitute users

- Already uses other forms of contraception (female sterilization)
- Does not understand the benefits of condoms beyond pregnancy prevention
- Perceives condom as a barrier to pleasurable sexual experience

Goals:

- Maintain one's health and sexual hygiene

Challenges:

- Side effects on women, as it dominantly includes female sterilization and pills
- Trust issues if condom use is insisted on even after sterilization

Current State

Future State

Facts

I am not aware what is safe sex

Problems

I was made fun of by my friends for asking a question on condom

Impact

I resort to pornographic website for info

Root cause

I am hesitant to talk about sex to an adult

Emotion

I feel nervous and helpless

Future stage

Knowledge on sex education and condom use

Recommendation

Durex led campaign on encouraging parents to educate their children on safe sex

Gap Analysis

I already use X method, why do I need to use condom?

My partner and I have occasionally experienced infections in reproductive area

Heavy medical bills

Partner and I do not like the barrier by condom, plus we are not likely to get pregnant

Frustration from medicines and delay in sex

Control over sexual activity; intimate hygiene maintainance

Durex should lead the campaign which talks about sexual wellness in adults above 35+ years of age

I belong to the LGBTQ+ community

I do not know which condom is best for me, I have no one to discuss this with

I cannot indulge in sexual activity stress-free

No prominent talk on LGBTQ+ sexual wellness in India

Feeling of helplessness

Confidence and knowledge on the subject to help my community members

Durex should make inclusivity their objective while advertising the brand

Entrepreneurs with Purpose

Durex is INCLUSIVE, EDUCATIVE and sticks to being BOLD, OPEN, WITTY

Our Big Idea

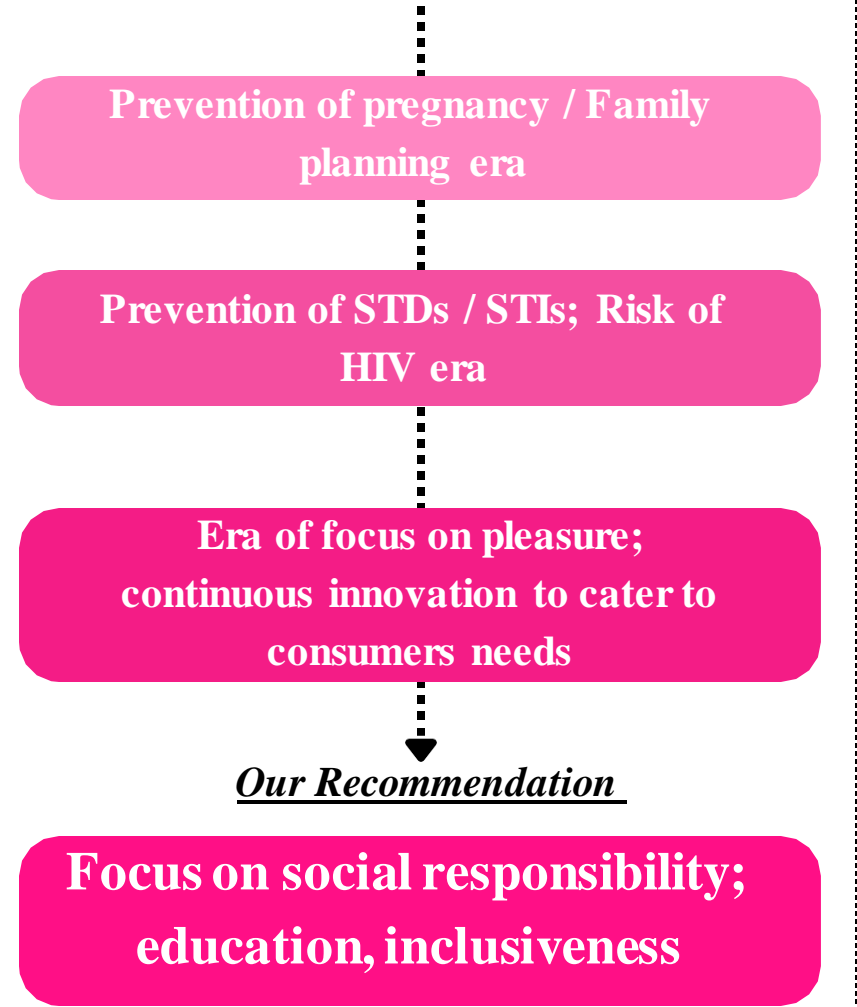

We will follow a 50-50 content framework

- 50% brand-related promotion through Inclusive - Durex for all
- 50% non-brand related sponsorships through Sex-education talks

Evolution of condom ads An Indian context

Evolution is based on socio-economic growth of nation

We believe that dislike of barriers is still a big concern in condom adoption, and that brands should focus a part of their campaign on pleasure. However, we also believe that for people to connect with the brand, its image as a socially responsible brand while still retaining its wittiness can be positive.

Marketing Campaign Idea

INCLUSIVE - DUREX FOR ALL

In line with Reckitt's Operating Model BE BOLD AND OPEN

	Advertisement	Portfolio	Channels
35+ year olds	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Benefits of condoms beyond birth control• How it can reduce the feeling of irritation or infection after sex	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Premium Base and Premium condoms• Lubricants - high problem after 35 years ~90% - bundling with condom packets	<ul style="list-style-type: none">FacebookYouTube Influencer marketing - by relatable age group influencers like, couple travellers, etc. Brand awareness - use traditional ways to educate

Future scope - INTIMATE HYGIENE PRODUCTS

- STI rate can be reduced prominently by simple hygiene of intimate areas before and after sex
 - Explore possibilities to introduce sexual hygiene care products like intimate wash
- Position it as a product for usage mainly before and after sex for STI prevention

SEX-EDUCATION TALKS

The Unaware Segment Non-brand related sponsorships

- Online content consumption of children has highly increased
- High-time for parents to take responsibility to educate children

'The Birds and Bees Talk' by Durex is talking about adolescent sex education but it is still a one-way interaction.

We aim at placing Durex as a pioneering brand that encourages parents and their children to talk about sex education without hesitation.

Would they rather accept that their children learn from wrong resources like porn sites and get affected mentally or they would like to create a safe space for their children's wellbeing?

- Influencer marketing -
- by youth icons in sports who are parents
 - by mom influencers, local influencers

Encourage through exposure on traditional promotion channels

Establish as a pioneer brand that started sexual wellness talks where no one did reckitt

Right to win

Industry first marketing initiatives

- teen focused awareness campaign
- Dedicated and relevant loyalty program

Distribution Channels

D2C Channel

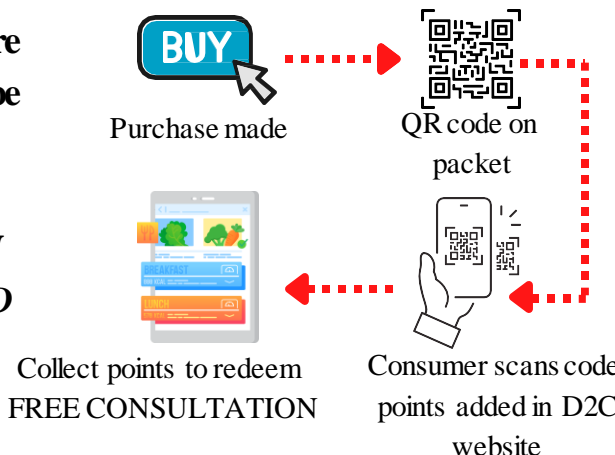

Loyalty Program

- Increases engagement
- Facilitates repurchase

A QR code will be present on premium range condoms and other Durex products

A loyalty program where collected points can be redeemed to get

FREE CONSULTATION WITH DUREX ASSURED SEXUAL WELLNESS DOCTORS

e-Commerce

- Data-driven marketing and analytics from inventory management on different e-commerce websites
- Get first-hand data on purchase patterns, frequency of purchase, customer reviews, ratings, complaints to boost

Traditional Retail channels

- Still accounts to 78% of condom trade
- Pricing barrier doesn't provide incentives to retailer to give prime locations in Point of Sale area
- However, an eye-level placement in stores suggested

Reckitt's RIGHT TO WIN

What's in it for Reckitt?

Customer Base

- Currently limited; extend to a significant base in the 35+ age category

Future Base

- Building positive connect with brand amongst teenagers and creating a future base

Other products

- The targeted segment and message will focus on other products like lubricants, thus adding to revenue

Brand Recall

- From the suggested campaigns, instill talks amongst people and increase brand recall

Market Share

- Achieve target of increasing market share by differentiating based on brand perception

Internal Factors enabling Reckitt to win

Brand Perception

- Existing brand personality of Durex of being witty and premium connects well with the newer generation as well who will be future customers

Marketing Expertise

- Existing social media presence and engagement expertise; prominent than competitors
- Marketing and analytics expertise can be enhanced from D2C and other online channels

Distribution Network

- Reckitt's strength in its common distribution network which can allow Reckitt to market its condoms to different segment
- Existing D2C present good for older couples shy to go to chemist

External Factors

- First to start an inclusive campaign for untapped segments in the market
- No one has catered to the 35+ year-old individuals and talked about sexual wellbeing even after sterilization

INCLUSIVE | INNOVATIVE | RESPONSIBLE

Market capture through marketing and distribution initiations is significant

Roadmap and Financials
